

TO OUR District Residents

Prescott School District (PSD) will be faced with a budgeting deficit at the end of the current school year. This will result in a loss of significant school programs, activities, jobs and services.

Why is there a deficit? Our levy cap override funding, approved in 2007, expires at the end of this school year. This year the state of Wisconsin reduced our aid by $636,000. Federal aid is set to go down as well beginning in 2012. These decreases in funding couldn't have come at a worse time. The reality is that costs are going up. Energy prices are projected to rise two to three percent each year. Health care expenses are expected to increase by six percent annually as well. At the same time, the district must plan for teacher salaries and benefits to increase an average of two percent annually.

What is proposed? Without a new levy cap override to replace the expiring one, the district faces a $1,720,000/year budget gap. To manage this problem, the district is pursuing a two-part strategy. First they will make cutbacks totaling $260,000 over the next four years. The second strategy is to satisfy the remaining shortfall with a proposed $1,460,000 new levy cap override. The new levy is a renewal of the expiring levy cap override with an additional $340,000 annually for four years beginning in 2013.

The new levy is an annual increase of $50 in property taxes on a property valued at $100,000. The amount is in addition to what you already pay in property taxes. The new levy cap override is essential in order to account for the increases in costs and decreases in aid. It also sustains the district's ability to offer programs and services like athletics, city bus routes, and important staff that are needed to operate well-functioning schools for our students.

Vote: It is up to the school district's residents to decide on the new levy cap override Tuesday, Nov. 8, 2011.

How will the levy be used?

The levy will save current programs, athletics and extracurricular activities. These activities help embrace students' individualities by giving them more choices and opportunities to become successful. The Levy will not be used on any new buildings for the school district. However, the levy will save day-to-day services and staff that enable our schools to operate efficiently. The district will need to scale back essential services that are needed to run a school district if funding is not obtained.

Levy Cap Override Defined

- A Levy Cap Override is a tax proposed out of necessity in order to narrow the gap in state and federal funding.
- The new levy is a renewal of the 2007 levy with an additional $340,000/year to cover rising costs.
- The levy increase would not impact your property taxes until January 2013.

Home Value	Current Levy	+ Levy Increase*	= New Levy
$100,000	$165	$50	$215
$200,000	$330	$100	$430
$300,000	$495	$150	$645

* This represents the annual increase of the new $1,460,000 levy.
