WHAT IF THE REFERENDUM FAILS?

- A failed referendum would not change the maintenance needs. Ignoring known repairs or replacements could result in higher long-term cost and loss of learning.
- Classrooms would be susceptible to disruption: ceiling leaks, broken pipes and inconsistent classroom temperatures.
- Without an additional investment in building maintenance, the school board may need to divert operating dollars to emergency repairs.
 - Emergency repair costs could impact programming, salaries and staffing.
 - Non-essential expenses, such as in-town bussing may need to be suspended or ended.
